OLD BUSINESS: WORKSHOP March 22, 23 and 24. I arrived late for this meeting so I did not hear the entire discussion, however, the workshop was very successful with 8 people participating. Great Job, Ray!! Starting in September 2013, JC Barone will be conducting classes on Wednesdays, 5:25 pm to 7:55 pm - "Basic Video Production" if anyone is interested in signing up.

FILMS FOR FESTIVAL: Lost Paradise, Piano Tuner, An Interpretation, Curfew, Heart New York, Goodbye to the Normals, Irish Folk Furniture, Curious Conjunction of Coincidences, Paper Man, Dripped, The Longest Day Care, Biogenesis. This should add up to 109 minutes and Goodbye to the Normals and Curious Conjunction of Coincidences may present problems. THIS IS NOT THE FINAL PROGRAM.

Mary is taking care of signs, all permits and licenses completed. We will have a banner at ETH and Mary is going to find out if the Brookfield Library will permit us to post a sign or banner in front of the library as well. We will hold back on entertainment until we have a final count for tickets...if we do not have at least 350 tickets sold, we will not go ahead with entertainment. Matthew Daniel will tape some background music for us to use at intermission. If we want to go ahead with entertainment, Ann's neighbor can arrange for us to have some musicians from the BHS music classes. We will have a meeting week of April 1 to finalize food choices. We agreed keeping the food choices simple since all food must be prepared in the kitchen at ETH. We will meet there on Thursday to set up and clean if necessary. We also discussed the possibility of having flyers, postcards and book markers available as well. VOLUNTEERS: 2 people must be a ticket table at all times, Ann will not be available on Friday, however, will be at all other showings. Sue Renz will take care of tickets on Friday evening. We need 3 people at wine tables at evening shows, only 2 people for afternoon shows.

NEW BUSINESS: Reception for Joel Spector's Art Show will be rescheduled for Thursday, April 11th 7:30 pm - 8:30 pm. Student Awards, so far we will be giving out at least one scholarship.
