Smoke Detector Disposal

Most manufacturers of smoke detectors will accept their own product if it is returned to them. First Alert and Walter Kidde are two of the most prominent brands of smoke detectors, but be sure to check your detector to see whom the manufacturer is. Due to the fact that smoke detectors contain a very small quantity of radioactive material, the DEP does not require special disposal. Therefore, it is acceptable to simply remove the battery and place a smoke detector in the regular trash.

Let Dooley do the dirty work for you

His great grandfather started the tradition of excellent service by using horse-drawn wagons to haul trash for the city of Boston in the 1920s.

Now, Foxboro native A.J. Dooley is keeping that legacy alive with Dooley Services, Inc., a residential and commercial trash removal, house or building clean out, and demolition company located at 6B Mechanic St. in Foxboro, right next to Primo's Sub Shop.

Like his relatives who preceded him, Dooley knows the secret to running a successful business is to provide quality service done by quality employees.

A longtime Foxboro youth football, basketball and baseball coach, Dooley also knows how to recognize talent in athletics and in business. "Through coaching, I always notice the hardest working athletes, and once they're looking for a job, I offer them a position with my company," said Dooley. "It usually turns out that hard work on the athletic field translates to hard work on the job."

That's why Dooley's business roster looks like a Foxboro High athletic team's lineup. Stephen Callahan is his foreman, while Tim Callahan, Gary Barret, Michael Garrigan, Matthew Goode, Sebastian "Papi" Borize, Ryan Faria and former Pop Warner football coach Brian Keefe are all on his staff.

Dooley and his employees bring a sense of pride and dedication working to remove trash from your home or business.

After all, with Dooley Services, Inc. available, why tackle the cleaning and removal yourself?

Instead, why not go with a quality company with quality employees, who can get your project done just the way you want it.

Dooley Services, Inc. caters to all members of the community. Weather it be home owners, business owners, Realtors, contractors, etc., Dooley Services provides the service you're looking for.

Dooley Services will clean out your over-flowing basement, attic or garage and haul the garbage away in an efficient manner. If you need a dumpster for your home or business, Dooley Services can also take care of that so that you have one less thing to worry about in your busy life.

Maybe, you just want to get rid of a shed, a garage, porch or an above-ground pool, or have an indoor remodeling planned. Dooley Services, Inc. can also take care of you with your indoor and outdoor demolition projects. And with Dooley's new Packer rubbish truck, he can serve more people efficiently for less money.

Business owners often contact Dooley Services for commercial dumpsters, clean-out of old inventory to make room for new, or to clean out basements and attics and offices to provide additional space. Dooley is now offering weekly pick-up for dumpsters for all commercial and residential properties hoping to save Foxboro residents at least 10 percent over what they are currently paying.

Contractors and carpenters give Dooley Services, Inc. a call to make sure their sites are cleaned up and have the trash removed.

Realtors also rely on Dooley Services for their preservation work on properties. Realtors also call for clean-outs and winterization of properties for colder months. As part of their service, Dooley will change the locks and board up the property to secure it if requested.

For the past 10 years, Dooley Services has taken pride in providing quality home and business service to Eastern Massachusetts, South Shore towns and Rhode Island at an affordable rate. Removal services can be charged by the truckload, the job or by the hour. MasterCard and Visa are accepted. Dooley Services offers discounts to senior citizens and residents on a fixed income.

When you've been in business for four generations as a family business, you learn a thing or two, and, in the case of Dooley Services, Inc., you also develop a reputation for dependability and quality services. Those are things A.J. Dooley and his staff take great pride in.

DOING THE MOST GOOD™

Recycle, reuse, donate

Area residents urged to take advantage of regional group's third annual event April 19 at the Tweeter Center

BY STEPHEN PETERSON
SUN CHRONICLE STAFF

Just as spring cleaning hits, area residents will have the opportunity on Saturday, April 19 to dispose of reusable and recyclable items they no longer want, while at the same time help those in need.

The third annual Reuse, Recycle, Donate Day will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., rain or shine, at the Tweeter Center off Route 140 in Mansfield.

The Earth Day weekend event is again being held by the Southeast Regional Recycling Partnership, a group that involves the towns of North Attleboro, Mansfield, Foxboro, Plainville and Wrentham.

"People always have some things they don't need or want," said Debbie Revelle, Plainville's solid waste recycling coordinator. "Instead of throwing them away, it is easier to bring them to a one-day event instead of running all over. If you have a lot of things you want to donate, this is one stop."

Second year at Tweeter

This is the second year that the major event will be held at the Tweeter Center; the first one was held in a commercial parking lot in Plainville. The new location is easily accessible from Interstate 495.

It is the only such event in the area. Concord was a model for us. Now other communities who have looked at our event are having their own recycle, reuse event," Revelle said. "It is kind of unique."

The items, most of which carry no fee to drop off, need to be in decent condition, however.

"We stress the stuff needs to be reusable and recyclable, and that this is not a place to bring your trash for free disposal," Revelle said.

There are other key benefits as well, organizers point out.

"This event successfully redirects truckloads of good, reusable items to organizations that support people in need or that benefit the environment," said Kathi Mirza, municipal assistance coordinator for the state Department of Environmental Protection and who is coordinating the event for the towns.

Bringing items to the event also will save communities trash disposal costs.

"This keeps a lot of good reusable items out of the trash, benefiting the environment and saving money for both residents and the towns," Mirza said.

Items accepted include clothing in good condition (in bags), sneakers in any condition as ones in poor condition are recycled for their rubber soles, eye glasses, small appliances in working condition, books of all types, toys, any condition TVs and computers (up to a $5 charge), small household furnishings, and sporting goods including athletic shoes but no fitness or ski equipment.

Bicycles and bed frames are accepted, but a $5 to $10 donation is requested.

Also, residents can bring paper that will be shredded for recycling at no charge while you watch.

Northeast Data Destruction of Mansfield is the vendor.

One of the only key changes from last year is a new organization taking part, Boomerangs, which takes in reusable household furniture such as bed and dining room furniture, tables, desks and bookcases but no mattresses.

Also Dress To Impress, a local organization that provides gently used business attire to needy women who are re-entering the workforce,

'Instead of throwing (things) away, it is easier to bring them to a one-day event instead of running all over.'

Debbie Revelle, Plainville's solid waste recycling coordinator

The North Attleboro Animal Shelter is looking for pet crates, leashes, dog toys including stuffed ones, and related items. Other organizations planning to attend include Bikes Not Bombs, Got Books, Nike, Play It Again Sports, Salvation Army, Afrihope, Big Brothers Big Sisters and Cradles to Crayons. And, the Plainville Boy Scouts are planning to collect leftover items for their annual yard sale.

Last year's event attracted more than 600 cars, nearly double the inaugural year. Popular items dropped off included toys and children's games.

"We had a really good turnout last year," Revelle said.

The five-town partnership has been active with other recycling initiatives, including obtaining grants for recycling programs.

While the King Philip Trail Riders and Mansfield public works employees help out, more volunteers are welcome to help unload vehicles and direct traffic. Call your town's recycling program.
