Subject: Create Vibrant, Healthy, Cohesive Communities!

Date: Thursday, July 20, 2017 11:06:11 AM

The Moving Together Conference promotes the idea that walking, bicycling and public transportation are the key components for creating vibrant communities where residents can enjoy health, social and economic benefits in a variety of forms.

Join us as we discuss how walking, bicycling and public transportation can increase the livability, health, economic development and sustainability of communities.

- This year's conference will be the official launch of the statewide Pedestrian Transportation Plan's Municipal Resource Guide, featuring:
 - Why is Walkability Important?
 - Elements of Walkable Communities
 - ADA Accessibility
 - Safety
 - Maintenance
 - Snow and Ice Clearance
- All-Day Program Tracks on Municipalities, Complete Streets and Transit
- Mega Sessions on Buses and Health and Safety Campaigns
- Site Visits and Awards!!

The conference brings together: city planners, developers, transportation engineers, nonprofit and business leaders, community and housing advocates, transit operators, government officials, public health professionals, community leaders, professional walking and bicycling advocates, and citizen activists.
