Wild and Scenic Meeting

COASTAL CLEANUP, OYSTER RIVER STYLE

Saturday, September 19th 9:00 am, Old Landing in Durham

Coastal Cleanup in the Seacoast Area is sponsored by the Blue Ocean Society. Here's a chance to do something green and useful close to home. The Oyster River Watershed Association will be coordinating cleanup at several locations along the Oyster River and tributary streams in Durham. Volunteers will be supplied with gloves, bags and tally sheets so they can pick up trash in assigned stretches of shoreline, separating out recyclables and tallying in categories. When the trash is brought to the meeting place, the materials will be weighed and the counts will be totaled for reporting to the Blue Ocean Society. Pick up at most locations can be completed in an hour or so, depending on the numbers of volunteers. This is a fun way for families and other groups to contribute to community and coastal well-being and health. Old Landing Road, which leads to the Old Landing parking area, is the second road on the right toward Dover beyond the Main Street - Route 108 traffic light. Clothing appropriate for weather and conditions is suggested. Questions and updates? Contact Dick Weyrick, 868-2862, dweyrick@comcast.net
