THE HISTORIC LEE, NH 2016 WALL CALENDARS ARE ON SALE FOR $10 AT THE LIBRARY AND TOWN HALL!

The calendar features photos of 12 fascinating buildings, barns and homes in Lee, as well as information about Lee's monthly special events in 2016 that celebrate the 250th anniversary of Lee's 1766 incorporation as a town. Photography by Denis Hambucken. If you missed the chance to pick one up before Christmas, remember that the calendars would also make excellent New Year's host and/or hostess gifts!

The Lee Heritage Commission has put up markers at 8 Town of Lee Historic Sites. Some of these sites are very apparent while others bear just the faint traces of the long-ago lives & events that shaped the development and history of Lee. For a list of sites and large map go to <http://www.leenh.org/Pages/Lee%20Historic%20Sites.pdf>

BITS of HISTORY from
The NEWMARKET ADVERTISER
December 23, 1893

LEE.

No Christmas festival this year; truly, Lee is going backward.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. David Fogg, a son. Congratulations are in order.

Among the strangers in town for the holidays, we noticed Mrs. George Strout of Cohoes, N. Y.

We hear that Frank J. Davis is going west. He was the best teacher we ever had in Lee, and any child with half a talent was compelled to add to it under his tuition.

It is a much mooted question, what is healthy winter weather? We have had every variety this month, none of which seems to agree with the people, as nearly everybody is ailing.

At the dance in Durham last Thursday night the edict was written, "no waltzing on the outside." Some who presumably were near sighted, or could not read, paid no attention to it.

We hope that now there are two professors of such marked ability in town each week to teach the benighted ones the art of singing, that the new beginners will get the lion's share of attention. The trouble generally is that teachers are in too much of a hurry to get the old singers into gear for some bang-up "sings," leaving the green ones to flounder along as best they may.

A little son of one of the French wood-choppers was taken one day last week with a violent fit of sneezing. It was made light of at first, but as there was no let up to it, and blood ran from nose and mouth, his parents became alarmed, and the father suddenly grabbed the boy by the heels as a sneeze was coming and two beans dropped from his nose, as the happy result. Com.

LEE HISTORICAL SOCIETY UPDATE

The Lee Historical Society would like to thank everyone for their continued support this year. The museum will be closed until April. We have several exciting new events planned as part of the 250th Anniversary Celebration. We hope to see you there.

We are always looking for new members and volunteers. Whether your talents lie with traditional crafts, computer work, creating exhibits, doing research, acting as a docent or just dressing up and marching in a parade, we can find a place for you. Contact Jan Allen at jlmpa85@aol.com or 603-292-6143 to get involved.

SAND & WATER AVAILABLE for RESIDENTS

Located along the right wall in the main building of the Transfer Station. There is also a water faucet near the employee parking. The Fire Station has a 24 hour water fill station on the east side of the building. There will be sand available for residents at the Highway Garage and the Transfer Station.

2016 POLITICS, POVERTY AND THE PRESIDENCY FORUM January 21st & 22nd Radisson Hotel Nashua, Nashua NH

On behalf of the Alliance for Strong Families and Communities, the Community Action Partnership, the National Community Action Foundation (NCAF), and the New England Community Action Partnership (NECAP), please see the attached press release the details on the 2016 Politics, Poverty and the Presidency Forum.

The Alliance and the Partnership represent over 1500 member organizations across the United States, and NECAP is a regional network comprised of over 60 Community Action Agencies (CAAs)—the state and federal designated antipoverty agencies and six state associations in New England. NCAF advocates for the nation's CAAs around policies that impact low-income people. NECAP, the Alliance, NCAF, and the Partnership recently came together with the same goal in mind: to bring the issues of poverty and inequality to the forefront of the 2016 presidential election. This exciting event, which usually attracts 300-400 participants, will allow CAA and Alliance member agency leaders and staff to come together to hear from presidential candidates around issues impacting low income individuals and families and hear their thoughts on how they plan to address them, should they get elected in 2016. All presidential candidates are invited, along with other prominent speakers, to discuss these important issues. These forums have been held during past presidential elections in the past with great success and hundreds of attendees are expected this time around as well. CLICK HERE for more details.
