Eversource 6:30 p.m.

As it stands, 3% of Eversource customers in Lee are still without power - that is about 48 customers. Though the vast majority of customers now have power, crews will continue to work into the night. We will start focusing on these smaller individual incidents beginning tomorrow.

Customers without power in communities where neighbors have power are asked to report their outage online at www.Eversource.com or call our Customer Service Team at 800-662-7764.

NHEC 8:23 a.m.

At the start of the 5th day of power restoration following the October 30th storm which knocked out power to more than 52,000 members at the height of the storm, approximately 4,000 Co-op members remained without power. NHEC crews, New Hampshire-based contract crews and line crews from New York, Virginia, Ohio and Illinois will be working in the 75 towns that are still reporting outages. The majority of these towns have fewer than five members without power. There are 3 customers left from NHEC that are without power this morning.

Below are important contact numbers for reporting outages:

800-343-6432 – this is NHEC's public outage line used to report outages and listen to recorded outage updates as available.

800-698-2007 - this is NHEC's main public number with prompts for various depts. including outage reporting, report trees on lines, report wires down.

NH Homeland Security & Emergency Management Director Perry Plummer asks the owners of homes or businesses that sustained damage as result of the October 29th - 30th storm to report the damage to 2-1-1 or 1-866-444-4211.

Planet Fitness has announced its New Hampshire gyms (including the one in Lee) will allow anyone impacted by the storm to use their showers, locker rooms, electrical outlets and other health and wellness equipment for free through Sunday, November 5th.
