TOWN OFFICES

2011 LEE
COMMUNITY
GARDENERS –
THE GARDEN OF NATIVE NH PLANTS

Have you visited the Town of Lee garden yet? If not, on your next trip to our recycling center, look for the arbor on your right. The garden awaits you. How many “dumps” do you know that have such an embellishment?

Anyone is welcome to wander the paths and see the variety of native NH plants. Look for the markers to help you identify them (don't miss the Concord grape vines growing on the lower fence). The daffodils should be in bloom soon, if they have not already begun to show off.

Each year we add new flowers and trees, as space permits. This year the Strafford County Conservation District has obtained low bush blueberries for us and we hope to tuck in some native grasses.

All gardens take work to maintain. Would-be and seasoned gardeners are welcomed with enthusiasm. We have a loyal crew and many “drop in” helpers...we want you, too.

So if you have a yen to do your part for the Town, meet some nifty people, and learn about natives, human and botanical, grab your tools and join us.

Linda Seedner (Queen of the works), Bob Hart (ever ready), Carolyn Bassage (call to action), Carol Doering (newest recruit) and yours truly, Gael Grant.

PS. If, any reader is (or knows someone) with woodworking talent and a creative urge, we are in real need of a weather resistant kiosk to house a map of the plants and garden brochures.

Please volunteer your services. Call Linda Seedner (659-1723) or Carolyn Bassage (659-3372)

MARKET

Spring is not as far away as it seems and the folks at the Lee Farmer's Market are making plans for another successful year at the market. The market will continue to be held at the old fire station in Lee. The hours are 3-6 pm on Thursdays. We're planning on a good variety of local fresh products, ranging from produce and fruits, meats, wool, baked goods, honey, syrup (both birch and maple) and wine. You can plan a complete gourmet meal from local products at the market. If you've been to the market in the past you'll remember the fine products and the sense of community. If you haven't yet experienced the market, give it a try this year. Begin looking for the signs around Memorial Day.

We vendors want to thank all of you folks for the strong support you given us over the last few years. We will do our best in providing the best quality products for you. If you would like to see products at the market that we don't presently have, let me know and we'll see what we can do.

This year we plan to present some entertainment and educational demonstrations during the markets.

If you are interested in participating as a vendor at the market, give me a call or pick up an application form at the Town Office.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Bridges

High Rd. Bridge- As of this writing, the town's engineering firm Quantum Construction Consultants is hoping to advertise for bids in the next few weeks, for the replacement of the High Rd Bridge. The expectation is for work to begin mid to late June. However, we have seen many delays in this project and expect there will be more. Look for updates on the town's website and the E-Crier.

Old Mill Bridge- The State DOT finished the rehabilitation of Old Mill Bridge in the late fall. Hopefully, the town will be able to get 20 more years out of this bridge before having to major work or replacement. This seems to be a pretty good deal for the town as the State DOT does the work and the Town reimburses the State 20% of their cost.

Paving

As gas prices increase so do paving cost. We expect higher paving prices this year, unless fuel and asphalt prices go down. Bids for paving will go out around the first of April. Once we know what to expect for pricing, we will post a list of roads to be paved on the town's website and E-Crier.

Winter

As of this writing, the Highway Department has plowed/treated during 22 separate events. We measured 71 inches of snow for the season so far at the Highway Garage. It was very busy in January and February. November and December were fairly quiet, so overall the budget is still looks pretty good. Generally speaking things went well for the Highway Department this winter.

I would like to thank full timers: Peter Hoyt and Warren Hatch, part time plow drivers: Jeff and Cheryl Geddis, and Rick Stevens for their loyalty and hard work this winter. I would also like to thank Bill Stevens for taking time off from his janitorial duties and plowing the Public Safety Complex with the town's front end loader.

We will try to keep a current list of upcoming roadwork on both the town's website and the E-Crier.

LEE HISTORICAL SOCIETY Museum:

We will be open for visitors Saturday April 16, May 21, and June 18 from 10:00 am - 12:00 noon. We plan to open the third Saturday of the month, April through November in 2011.

Spring Programs:

Please come to our April and May public programs, which are co-sponsored with the Lee Library.

Lizzie Borden Took an Axe, Or Did She?

Wednesday, April 6 at 7:00 pm
Public Safety Complex

In 1892, Lizzie Borden, a 32 year old single woman, was officially charged with the murder of her father and stepmother in Fall River, Massachusetts. The events that followed the murder would stir the curiosity of people across a nation. After four official criminal proceedings, Lizzie Borden was acquitted of the murder. The case is a mystery that has inspired documentaries, television movies, plays, musicals, poems, a scholarly journal, and law school case studies.

This presentation is designed to review the facts and explore evidence that some suggest point to Lizzie's guilt and others say exonerate her.

Presenter Annette M. Holba is an assistant professor in the Department of Communication and Media Studies at Plymouth State University. A former police detective, she is the author of Lizzie Borden Took an Axe, or Did She? She has also published widely on communications and the Lizzie Borden case.

Professor Holba's program is made possible by a grant through the NH Humanities Council.

Film Screening: The Tell-Tale Heart
by Edgar Allen Poe
Wednesday, May 4 at 7:00 pm
Public Safety Complex

Within the moldering chambers of a desolate house, a solitary manservant tends to his invalid master. Tormented by constant silence and the banality of his duties, the Servant's fears gradually turn to violent obsession.

With tangibly detailed period design and hauntingly lifelike puppetry, director/designer Robert Eggers unearths the decaying dream world of Poe. Eggers, a Lee native, directed this short film adaptation of Poe's classic at the Burley-Demeritt Homestead in Lee. More than half the cast and crew, including producers Michael Neal and Maura Anderson, have ties to the Greater Seacoast area. More info about this film can be found at: www.telltaleheartfilm.com

Adult Book Discussion Group

The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet* by David Mitchell

Monday, April 11 at 7pm

Set in atmospheric coastal Japan, this epic story centers on an earnest young clerk, Jacob de Zoet, who arrives in the summer of 1799 to make his fortune and return to Holland to wed his fiancée. But Jacob's plans are shaken when he meets the daughter of a Samurai.

Lyndon Johnson and the American Dream* by Doris Kearns Goodwin

Monday, May 9 at 7:00 pm

Doris Kearns Goodwin's classic life of Lyndon Johnson, who presided over the Great Society, the Vietnam War, and other defining moments of the tumultuous 1960s, is a monument in political biography. From the moment the author, then a young woman from Harvard, first encountered President Johnson at a White House dance in the spring of 1967, she became fascinated by the man—his character, his enormous energy and drive, and his manner of wielding these gifts in an endless pursuit of power. As a member of his White House staff, she soon became his personal confidante, and in the years before his death he revealed himself to her as he did to no other. Widely praised and enormously popular, Lyndon Johnson and the American Dream is a work of biography like few others. With uncanny insight and a richly engrossing style, the author renders LBJ in all his vibrant, conflicted humanity. ~ from the publisher

The Talented Mr. Ripley

by Patricia Highsmith

Monday, June 13 at 7:00 pm

In a chilling literary hall of mirrors, Patricia Highsmith introduces Tom Ripley. Like a hero in a latter-day Henry James novel, Ripley is sent to Italy with a commission to coax a prodigal young American back to his wealthy father. But Ripley finds himself very fond of Dickie Greenleaf. He wants to be like him--exactly like him. Suave, agreeable, and utterly amoral, Ripley stops at nothing--certainly not only one murder--to accomplish his goal. Turning the mystery form inside out, Highsmith shows the terrifying abilities afforded to a man unhindered by the concept of evil. ~ from the publisher

Please note that book discussion titles are subject to change based on availability. Copies of each title are available for loan at the checkout desk one month prior to the discussion date.

The MAN in RED

Dick Wellington was a well-known character who stood tall amongst us. Dick was a life-long resident, with stories to tell of the history of Lee. His passing came way too quickly. His distinct style gone, yet he will be remembered by many who were fortunate enough to spend time with Dick. Time is one of the greatest gifts a person can give to another. What is the value of time a person gives to their town and its people? After all, a town is nothing more than a collection of people who come together for the betterment of the community. Dick loved Lee, its people, its land and its critters. He always took the time to tell a story, make us laugh and left us pondering a statement or two from the depth of his wisdom.

He was the owner of the Lee Village Store and Wellington Campground, a Selectman, the Town Historian, a plow truck driver, a Volunteer and more.

When Dick retired as a Selectman in March 2007 after serving 15 years, he said "it was time to leave Lee to another generation to lead Lee into the 21st Century". We soon learned that moving forward at rocket speed was too fast for many of Lee's residents. We do our best work when we consider the past and embrace Lee's history. Dick has passed, but his legacy is with us. Those of us who remain, need never forget the many lives that have long since passed that stood on these grounds. One of Dick favorite statements was "across the street from the Town Hall is a whole group of indispensable people". We as people are indispensable, as is the lifestyle created in Lee's since its incorporation in 1766.

Dick was elected Moderator of the town on March 10, 2010. This would have been his first Town Meeting. It would have been interesting and entertaining to see Dick in a red shirt and suit as Moderator at Lee's last traditional Town Meeting. Please look to next year's Town Report which will be in Dick's memory.
