Woodmont

The property owners attended the meeting to discuss options for preserving Lot 22-1 (36.45 acres) and Lot 19 (57 acres), the second property has some waterfront on purgatory brook. The last campaign to raise funds and awareness was not successful and they were investigating other options. The Con Com agreed to investigate what may have gone wrong on the first attempt and to also contact the PLC (Piscataquog Land Conservancy) to make them aware that the owners are interested in preserving this property.

New conservation possibility

A town resident contacted the commission and asked about options to conserve their property (58 acres) which is adjacent to the town forest. Sharon and Mike met with the resident and walked the property. They invited all of the Con Com members to walk the property individually or together.

Purgatory Falls

Kurt sent Officer Hervieux an email describing the area where the encampment was located near the lower falls and will return to see if it is still there after winter.
