I read with concern that the Town of Monterey is going to spend about $20,000 this year on a community center project that may not reach fruition for years, if ever. Experience show that feel good projects like this become money pits, and that expenses continue to grow. I hope you will not throw good money after bad. It would be much more prudent for the Town of Monterey to sell the Wilson-McGlaughlin property and use the proceeds to fund scholarships for Monterey students. This would be in line with the terms of the bequest. I am a taxpayer in the Town. With respect and all best wishes.
