

Integrating Permaculture Concepts in Community Planning

By

Steven W. Whitman, AICP

Senior Planner, Jeffrey H. Taylor and Associates, Concord, NH

Please join the New Durham Planning Board in a presentation and discussion describing the concepts of permaculture and how they can be applied at the municipal level.

Discussion will focus on highlighting the many reasons for looking at the New Durham community from an ecological perspective, and how to move forward.

WHEN: Tuesday, October 30th 7:30 PM

WHERE: Fire Department Community Room

BIO: Steven Whitman is a professional planner and educator based in New Hampshire. His work is focused largely on community planning and sustainability issues. Mr. Whitman is a certified permaculture teacher, and is also an adjunct faculty member at Plymouth State University where he teaches courses in NH and internationally in environmental planning, community planning, permaculture and sustainability.