The Bus Stops Here, After School at The Fells

Tues May 5th, Tues May 12th, Tues May 19th, Tues May 26th 2015, 3:30-5:15

We all know that John Milton Hay, who worked for many U.S. Presidents, including Abraham Lincoln, spent summers at this place that he called The Fells, in Newbury, N.H. But, did you know that this huge place (about 1000 acres!) was a giant outdoor playground for the Hay children? The Hay kids spent hours and hours swimming in the lake, boating, fishing, playing tennis, building tree houses, gardening, picnicking on Sunset Hill, visiting Council Rock (where, according to tradition, Indians had once gathered for Powwows)... You can experience this special place on Lake Sunapee too! Join us after school for lots of fall hikes and arts and crafts projects, nature exploration, a bit of gardening and more! $7.00 per session or $25.00 for the series. Payable to "The Fells". Limited scholarships available, contact Mary Lou Mcrave at the Fells for scholarship info. Call Travis Dezotell at Newbury Recreation(603-748-4879) to confirm your place and get information on how to take the bus from the school, you must pre-register. Newbury recreation and Fells staff will meet children as they arrive at The Fells. A partnership of the Newbury Recreation Dept., Newbury Schools and The Fells. Supported by grants from the New Hampshire Charitable Foundation's Wellborn Ecology Fund and the Creekmore and Adele Fath Charitable Foundation.

Please have your child bring the following items with him/her each day:
