

This is a draft document listing the titles, mission statement, and contact person(s) for funds which have been created in response to the tragic events of December 14, 2012. Please be aware that the list is incomplete and may be inaccurate in some respects. There funds are NOT under the jurisdiction of the Town of Newtown. We are 'cataloging' the funds as a service to the community. We have not vetted any of these funds nor do we represent them in any way. This is information only. We will publish updated lists as more information becomes available. March 18, 2013.

Mission: To support the construction of a walkway from Sandy Hook to the flagpole to reflect the unity of our community in continuing remembrance and shared loss. "The Children's Walkway will create those random serendipitous moments where people recognize each other as neighbors and friends. We are no longer strangers but villagers looking out for one another, particularly the young, old and frail. A wide, well-built walkway will connect churches, schools and parks with our major areas of commerce that will encourage physical activity and unify our community.

The Draper family has committed an initial $150,000 donation to start the project. This is part of a planned sidewalk.

Mission: Kevin's Community Center (KCC), the well-established free community health clinic serving the Newtown Health District, has embarked on a relationship with the Psychiatric Division of Massachusetts General University Hospital to set up a workshop series to train the volunteer professional medical staff of Kevin's Community Center in the areas of Cognitive Behavioral Training (CBT) for acute stress, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and grief counseling. There will be a team of four instructors conducting the long day course, with back up online assistance and follow up help via multiple means to help ensure proper and full training.

This is a unique opportunity for Kevin's Community Center to have a nationally recognized program agree to sponsor a program tailored to our current and future needs. This is a first step to afford KCC the opportunity to build capacity to respond to the dire counseling and support needs of our community not only in the wake of the 12/14 tragedy that occurred in our community at the Sandy Hook Elementary School, but also for the long aftermath of need that has become apparent as the residents of Newtown struggle to recover from this tragedy. The strength of Newtown in this crisis has been its unification as a community to help one another toward the path to recovery. The positive prognosis for our Town rests in our ability to provide these long-range support services from within the Town, with minimal reliance on service providers who are not members of this close-knit small town community.

Massachusetts General has secured a grant from one of its major donors to cover most of the costs to initiate this program at KCC in Newtown. Additional funds will be needed to supplement this donation for the initial implementation and to ensure the ongoing training and continued capacity building so that our community can be well-prepared to address its needs on a long-term basis. KCC, because of its long standing reputation of providing free high quality health care to the uninsured and underinsured in Newtown, is well poised to be the "go to" place in Newtown for residents seeking counseling and support services to address their grief and stress associated with the trauma that they have experienced.

- ii.) Sandy Hook School students and their families

- iii.) Sandy Hook School faculty and administration
- iv.) First responders to the tragedy
- v.) Counseling agencies providing free or reduced cost services to the parties noted above

How Will the Funds Collected Be Used?

Funds will be directed using the following priorities and will be dependent on the availability of the funds over time.

A) Immediate Needs

- Funeral and related expenses
- Counseling and medical needs
- Emergency family living expenses

B) Continuing & Longer Term Needs

*Counseling and medical needs of the persons noted in i-iv above

- Supplemental needs of persons noted in i-iv above
- Supplemental needs of Newtown Schools

C) For the Broader Community

- Residual funds, if any, may be used to name scholarships in memory of the victims
- The Newtown Rotary Foundation generally does not expect to disburse funds directly to those in need, but to direct funds as needed, to vendors and through local agencies Rotarians have worked with that are well qualified. We will also further refine this strategy as we better understand the needs of those affected and other available resources. The Board of Directors of the Foundation will have oversight on ensuring that all funds are spent per the structure defined here.

Sandy Hook Promise is a newly formed national grass-roots organization based in Newtown, Connecticut. Following the tragic shootings at Sandy Hook Elementary School, that took the lives of twenty young children and six educators on December 14, 2012, a group of Newtown citizens joined together to support those in their community affected by the tragedy and to enlist all Americans in national dialogue to seek out and advocate for comprehensive solutions and action to make our country safer from similar acts of violence.

Sandy Hook Promise is comprised of two nonprofit corporations – Sandy Hook Promise Foundation, which is in the process of applying for its recognition as a section 501(C)(3) organization and Sandy Hook Action Fund, a section 501(C)(4) advocacy organization.

Our Foundation funds will be directed in this priority order: families directly affected (including services, like counseling), broader community impacts (including counseling for children at Sandy Hook School that day, first responders and teachers, and possibly other community efforts such as a memorial), education on the issues surrounding violence in our communities, and advocacy once we've identified actions to reduce violence in our communities. We will also coordinate with other funds based on the 12/14 tragedy to ensure the most efficient and effective use of funds

www.benslighthousefund.org
Contact: Rick Haylon (Fund Chairman) 203-577-9774
rhaylon@charter.net or trinityendowmentfund@gmail.com
Mission: The purpose of a lighthouse is to guide and protect, and that is how we see our role. We are establishing programs, events and activities that enlighten and affirm each child in a safe environment: we are encouraging conversation to gain understanding of how each child is coping; we provide counsel and support when needed; we recruit and utilize experts to deal with life's events and circumstances that could be particularly troublesome for our kids; we are generating activities that promote a positive self-image and, for the older youth, that encourage community service. Throughout all these activities, we will always nurture an environment of non-violence and caring towards self and others.

Ben's Lighthouse programs, events and activities fall into these few categories:

Community Building: We will bring people together in uplifting and supportive ways. These may include one-time events or ongoing activities. These programs may revolve around a specific age group or all youth or all families.

Workshops: These are opportunities to focus on specific issues or concerns or skills that would likely apply to a specific age-group or to parents of a particular group. We will leverage local expertise where available or bring in subject-matter experts as needed.

Service: Many people, whether youth or adult, gain strength by reaching out to help others. We will look to give our youth the opportunity to help others, either within or outside of Newtown, through hands-on efforts or by creating activities that help them to raise awareness or funds for needy groups.

All Ben's Lighthouse programs will be open to all children, youth and families in Newtown and surrounding towns.

Ben's Lighthouse Fund is a restricted fund of Trinity Church, a part of the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut, a 501 (c) (3) organization. Donations to the Fund are donations to Trinity Church and are tax deductible contributions. The use of the Fund's assets are, however, restricted to the purposes set forth on www.benslighthousefund.org.
