The preliminary figure is 86% based on what was filed for the December 1 filing. That figure seems rather large since last year the percentage was at 80%. It looks like a significant amount of districts did not file for all their students so I suspect that percentage will drop with the second filing. I originally figured around 77% for this year but I don't think you should go above 80%. The revenue estimates will be posted in the next couple of days with the notification to soon follow.

Hello Kevin,

Could you tell me the % projected for Newtown of eligible excess cost we will get. If not this year what was last years %?
