Upon closer inspection, I observed that a Gold Buick Le Saber 4 door sedan was running with the key in the ignition. The key had a dealership tag on the key ring indicating that the key belonged to the business. The driver's window was open about 6 inches and the heat was on. There were no signs of forced entry. Upon contacting dispatch for a key holder to respond, I had to shut off the vehicle and secure it to respond to assist on a traffic stop. Upon returning to the Hampton Ford Auto Wholesale lot, I met with key holder Hume who inspected the vehicle, surmised that an employee left the vehicle in the condition I found it. Hume took custody of the vehicle key.
