She stated that they are simply having a conversation among the riders but bc they have to talk over the traffic, their helmets, etc that they are speaking at very loud levels and it wakes her up. She stated that it happens often, several times a week. I explained that she will need to call us when it happens so we can try to speak to the riders, that we can't just do a patrol of the area bc there is no way to know if the cyclists we may see are the same ones. She said she understood and would call when it's a problem again. I gave her my business card and told her to call the number on the front bc our dispatch would answer and notify the on shift officer.
