BURKE maintained that the trampoline belongs to METHORAKIS and he or a third party will be delivering it.

Later that shift, I contacted BURKE and explained that he could be potentially charged with criminal trespass if he chooses to bring the trampoline to NH. During this discussion, BURKE stated that he wouldn't be bringing the trampoline to NH and stated that it wouldn't be worth it. I called METHORAKIS back and informed her of this decision and informed her to call the NHPD in the event BURKE arrives at the NHPD or drops of the trampoline.

Robert stopped in to leave a large packet of information for Detective Cormier on behalf of his Wife, Ramie Marston. Due to my knowledge that Detective Cormier had been consistently trying to get written statements on several other "information packets" that Ramie had dropped off, I asked Robert to let me review the information and I would decide if we could take it from him or not. After review of the information it all appeared to be civil process from this state and from out of state, so I told Robert we could not take it until we received a written statement from Ramie in reference to what she expected us to do with all the civil information in it. I also turned the information back based on my knowledge that Ramie had retained Attorney Mike McCarthy for her civil issues, and I did not want to interfere with Attorney/Client privilege between the two of them.
