Dear Carolyn:

This is to acknowledge that I received your call early this afternoon in response to my letter to Charles Rothenberger faxed to him this morning. It is my understanding that the copies of the materials requested are still being prepared and you do not expect hard copies to be available any earlier than mid-day tomorrow.

Dennis Goderre of BL Companies will be calling you for additional information on your visual presentation, and how we might expedite getting copies, electronically or otherwise, of relevant materials as soon as possible.

As I advised Charles, our receipt of the materials is without prejudice to any claim the Applicant may make with respect to the untimeliness of your proposed presentation.

Very truly yours,

David M. Royston
