My Generation gave the OREC a presentation on the many different solar panel projects they have installed locally. These included commercial and residential projects in the surrounding Cape towns beginning in 2009 to the present. The increase in the numbers of projects indicates an ever increasing demand for solar energy. Information on the costs for solar arrays and the state and federal incentives were also shown. The presentation gave the OREC members present up to date information on the progress of the solar panel industry and installation locally. The solar PV technology field has improved immensely over the last few years and the demand for installation on residential and commercial projects is encouraging.
