Red pine update:

Contract with logger expired on jan1 – contract was extended until 2/15. The permit is good for one year, but the contract was for 90 days and the difference was explained to the logger. Logger suggested that a road be created off Indian neck into the existing cleared site that would be used as a parking area. The current access to Indian neck would be blocked off. The final location for the parking area would be selected when the logger is just about finished. Maintenance has material that can be used to cover the parking area.
