CORRESPONDENCE

No correspondence was presented.

OLD BUSINESS

Historic Building Identification Project

Janet Erikson, Chairman, showed us a compilation of the Historic District Research Project that she put together. In it she has paired narrative information on the buildings with copies of photographs of them. It was suggested that a presentation like this would make a good brochure for publication.

Richard Dickey suggested that a topographical map, with an outline of the Historic District on it, be used for the cover of a publication. *

Some discussion regarding contacting local realtors and business people for financial support regarding this project was had.

Monuments Brochure

Clarence Smith reported that he and Eugene Cornier are still busy on the Monuments Brochure.

Catholic Church "Salvage"

During the Regular Meeting of February 5, 2003, Richard Dickey indicated that Sec. 7, p. 13 of the Historic Research Project has a quote which reads that the "Catholic Church was salvaged from the 1908 train wreck". It was agreed at that meeting that more information should be gathered in explanation. The need for more information on this was reiterated at this meeting, of March 5, 2003.
